Taking a Personal Day*

John was in his late forties when he got laid off. He was out of work for almost two years before he finally found a job. He was glad to be working again.

From day one, John worked hard. He was a fast learner, and his coworkers liked him. He was always on time, and he never complained about working overtime, so he won the title Employee of the Month several times.

After a year, John's boss got transferred to another department. His new boss, Mr. Tate, was from another branch out of state. He didn't know anyone in the office.

One Monday morning, soon after Mr. Tate became his boss, John missed a morning meeting that everyone had been told to attend. Mr. Tate noticed that John wasn't there. He said, "Everyone is here except John. Has anyone heard from him?"

Mark said, "He called this morning and said he couldn't come in today. He didn't explain. He just said he needed to take a personal day."

Mr. Tate seemed rather annoyed, but he continued the meeting without John.

The next morning when he saw John, Mr. Tate asked loudly, in front of everyone, "Why weren't you at the meeting yesterday?"

John said apologetically, "I'm so sorry, Mr. Tate. I've never missed a day of work or any meetings. But it was very important."

Mr. Tate asked, "What was so important, John? You had better have a good excuse."

John didn't really want to talk about it with his new boss, let alone in front of everyone, but he knew he had to explain. "Well, I'm an only child and I live with my elderly mother. I mean, I was an only child and I used to live with my mother. But she died Sunday night, so I had to take a personal day yesterday to go and make her funeral arrangements."

Mr. Tate felt bad for putting John on the spot. He said nervously, "Oh, I see. Well, um ... just don't let it happen again!"

Susan's Diary

★Friday, July 21st (5:05 a.m.)

I just got a text saying that my younger sister and dad are at the emergency room! The doctors aren't sure what's wrong with him. A few weeks ago, he woke up in the middle of the night with hip pain. He thought it would go away, but it got worse and spread to other areas, including his back and legs. The pain medication his doctor gave him wasn't working, and he started getting weaker and weaker. Today he was so weak that he couldn't lift his arm, so my sister rushed him to the hospital. They are there now.

Now it's 2:15 p.m. My dad and sister are still at the hospital! It's after 1:00 a.m. there. He has had a lot of tests, and he's getting an MRI now. As soon as the doctors find out what's wrong with him, they will admit him. He will have to stay in the hospital for a while.

★Saturday, July 22nd (11:05 p.m.)

I got more news about my dad. He finally got admitted at around 2:00 a.m. US time. He has a very serious infection, so he will be moved to a bigger hospital about an hour away from my parents' house. That hospital has the specialists he needs. He will stay there for a while, and then he will go to a nursing home for rehabilitation. He has a long road ahead, but I think he'll recover almost completely. Before this illness, he exercised every day, so he was in pretty good shape for an 87-year-old! I think that will help him recover faster.

Notes and examples:

emergency room / ER = (病院の)緊急治療室

- ① He was taken to the emergency room.
- ② As an ER doctor, he treats serious injuries.

hip = 股関節

- ① My grandma fell and broke her hip.
- ② My hips hurt if I sit in one position for too long.

- ② I was in the hospital for three weeks!

as soon as ... = ...するとすぐに

- ① As soon as I got home, I fed my cat.
- ② I'll visit you as soon as I get out of the hospital.

admit someone (to the hospital) = 人を入院させる

- ① The ER doctor admitted him right away.
- ② I can't be admitted until the doctor knows what's wrong with me.

serious infection = 重い感染症

- ① This is a serious infection. People die from it!
- ② He has a serious eye infection.

specialist = 専門医

- ① She says I need to see a heart specialist.
- ② Can you recommend a cancer specialist?

nursing home = 介護施設

- ① He enjoys working at the nursing home.
- ② Covid spread through the nursing home.

recover = 回復する, 元気になる

- ① He is recovering from his injury at home.
- ② You'll recover quickly!

HOW MUCH DO YOU UNDERSTAND?

Read the paragraph and answer the TRUE/FALSE (本当ならT嘘ならF) questions. Answers on p. 11.

Because e-cigarette *aerosol contains fewer toxic chemicals compared to the more than 7,000 found in cigarette smoke, vaping may seem like a risk-free substitute for smoking. However, vaping does pose significant dangers to health. The aerosolized chemicals, including nicotine and flavorings, can lead to health issues. There is limited research on the long-term effects of vaping, but emerging evidence points to links with chronic lung *ailments, asthma, and cardiovascular issues. In addition, nicotine addiction is a major concern, particularly among young users, and can potentially lead to long-term tobacco use. The appealing flavors and marketing strategies of vaping products can entice minors to start using them, which raises concerns about youth nicotine addiction. Overall, vaping's potential to harm health, *foster nicotine addiction, and target younger *demographics underscores its substantial dangers.

- T • F 1. Vaping is just as dangerous as smoking, if not more.
- T • F 2. E-cigarettes deliver nicotine, which is an addictive substance.
- T • F 3. Companies that produce vaping products try to make them more appealing to young people by making them taste better.

That's Not ENGLISH!

Kayla (K) is talking to Eri (E) over coffee.

- E: My son got in trouble for escaping school.
 K: Oh no. Why did he do that?
 E: He and Yuuta wanted to play games at Yuuta's house all day.
 K: Well, it could be worse.
 E: *I guess so. Did you ever skip school when you were in high school?
 K: No. Well, yes. But it was *my mom's fault.
 E: What do you mean?
 K: My mom thought I was too serious. She knew I had never missed a day of school. So one day during my third grade, she came into my room and told me to stay in bed until my brothers had left for school.
 E: Why did she do that?
 K: She wanted to spend the day alone with me. So the two of us went shopping and out for lunch. It was fun!
 E: Aw. You have a really nice mom!
 K: I sure do. I should give her a phone.
 E: And maybe I should *give my son a break. But if he skips school again, he's *gonna be in big trouble!

- ★ I guess so. = そうね。 / そうかもしれない。
- ★ someone's fault = 人のせい
- ★ give someone a break = 人を大目に見る
- ★ gonna be in big trouble = 大変なことになる

- a A: Let's ~~skip~~ school on Friday!
B: No way! We'll get caught.
- b A: Let's go to the beach today.
B: I can't do that! I'll get in trouble for ~~skipping~~ work.

② ~~third grade~~ → senior year
→ third year

- a Next year is our ~~senior year~~. Can you believe it?
- b A: What year are you in?
B: I'm in my ~~third year~~ of high school.

③ ~~a phone~~ → a call

- a Give me ~~a phone~~ when you get home.
- b A: I have to go to Tokyo next week.
B: Really? Give me ~~a call~~ if you have any free time. We can hang out!
A: I'll do that!
